BRUSSELS AND PARIS REFUSE LONDON PLANS

Curzon Says French Answer To Note No Basis For Reparation Discussion

DRAFT REPLY IS IGNORED

Italy Sent No Written Response
But Favors General Views
Of Britain

By Associated Press
London—Great Britain and France stand toward further part in their attitude toward Germany than the British people and probably the world at large have understood. This seems to be the conclusion from the explanation Premier Baldwin and Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, gave parliament Thursday of the position resulting from the latest British attempt to lay the foundations of a united policy.

The ministers revealed that the latest communications from France and Belgium furnished no material for an allied answer to the German reparation proposals and they brought to light a surprising deadlock in the correspondence.

Neither reply they stated, even mentioned the draft note to Germany which Great Britain had submitted to the two allied governments. Apparently the French and Belgian communications were limited to replying to Great Britain's note, sent with the draft, or dealing only in generalities.

CO-ORDINAL SPIRIT

The British spokesmen, acknowledged the cordial spirit in which the allies read words their communications. Ministers laid special emphasis that Italy had expressed general agreement with the British position.
But they indicated clearly that they saw no hope for joint action and they pointed out directly that while the Allies were exchanging views with unabated friendliness, the European situation might sink into irretrievable ruin.

The British government proposes to publish its own share of the correspondence and is asking France and Belgium for permission to publish their replies. This publication, it was indicated, will constitute an appeal to the public opinion of the world.
Whether France will wish to be a party to that appeal remains to be seen. Correspondents in France representing English newspapers say that the French government will prefer to adhere to Premier Poincare's recent policy of secrecy. It seems likely, therefore, that another chapter of the negotiations will be opened over the question of publicity.

London—Lord Curzon said in the house of lords Thursday that the French and Belgian replies to the recent British reparations note appeared to hold out no prospect of an early settlement of the situation in the Ruhr, nor of a commencement of a discussion on reparations. The British draft reply to Germany was not mentioned in the communications
from Paris and Brussels, he said.
He regretted that Great Britain
could not find in the French and Belgian response enough material for sending a joint allied reply to the last

GUARD ARTILLERY GETTING IN SHAPE

By Associated Press
Camp Douglas—Artillery troops of the Wisconsin National guard spent Thursday in routing conditioning drill getting in shape for general maneuvers and firing practice that are to occupy their second week of training.

The 1500 men in camp were on the field throughout the day, devoting
most of their time to the guns. Adjutant General Ralph M. Imnell was with the troops.

Four days of field training have put the national guardsmen in good trim
for the more extensive activities of next week, the officers report.

Island Chiefs Had Plotted Against Wood

Washington, D. C.—The present conflict between Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Filipino leaders, which culminated in the recent resignation of the governor general's cabinet, was part of a carefully prepared plan worked out and executed by Quezon, Osmena, Roxas, and a few other native politicians, it was learned on high authority here Thursday.

Weeks in advance of the cabinet's resignation, it is stated, the three Phi-lipinos toured the islands feeling out the sentiment against Gen. Wood and arousing the people by attacks upon his administration.

Gen. Wood has reported to the war department the fact of his return to Manila after an inspection tour of the province of Samar.

FORMER EDITOR AT HORTONVILLE KILLED BY FALL

Irwin Nye Falls From 19th Floor Of Chicago Hotel—
Well Known Here

By Associated Press
Chicago—Irwin Nye, of Jancerville, Wis., fell to his death Thursday morning from the nineteenth floor of a downtown hotel here. He suffered a fracture of the skull which caused his death a few moments after his body was found lying on the roof of an adjoining building, ten floors below, by another guest at the hotel.

A pillow was found on the window ledge of Nye's room and the body was clad in night clothing which led the police to believe that he went to the window in search of a cooling breeze and lost his balance and fell.

He was 54 and proprietor of a printing supply house.
A Dommerman of Brooklyn, N. Y., a guest in another room, saw the palama clad body of Nye hurtle past his window and land on the roof below.
He called B. J. Bowman, manager of the hotel, who summoned the police.
Nye was dead by the time a physician
reached his side.

SLEEPING ON SILL

According to Policeman E. Prendergast, pillows on the window ledge of Nye's room indicate that he was sleeping on the broad sill and rolled out. The body was taken to the Central Undertaking establishment 422 South Clark-st. to await inspection by the coroner.

Investigation of Mr. Nye's room showed that the door was locked from the inside. Mr. Nye's effects were in orderly arrangement.
"Just before 6 o'clock I heard a loud noise on the roof and thought
some one had exploded a bomb or fired
a shot," said John Howland, of New York city, who was in a ninth floor room. "I looked out and saw the body of a man on the roof."

Nye was 54. He was proprietor of Nye's Printing Supply shop in Janesville.

PROHIBITION RAISES PRICES OF WINE GRAPES

Santa Rosa, Cal.—Growers of black wine grapes in the Sonoma valley are being offered from $50 to $75 a ton for their product, while from $50 to $80 is being offered for the Alicante
Bouquet grape, another wine variety,
according to market report issued here. The prices are slightly higher than those set by the California Grape Growers' exchange for the 1923 crop.
According to the same report, there are 5,000,000 cations of wine in storage
in Sonoma county wineries.

SUPERIOR MAN DROWN'S
Superior, Wis.—John E. Nightingale, Superior, was drowned at 630
P. M. Wednesday night in Superior
bay. The body was not recovered.
Drowning for the body was resumed
Thursday morning.
Nightingale is survived by a widow and four daughters.

Mussolini Doctrine Not Intended As Participation Of Labor In Government, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
Special Cable Dis. to Post-Crescent Rome—Just what is fascism? Many an American here finds himself as much perplexed by the implications of it as his countrymen three thousand miles away.

For the Italian fascism is a combination of economic doctrine applied
by political and even military force while fascism itself is a kind of theory of government, one phase of which looks to the regulation of big and little business, capital and labor, not unlike many suggestions put forth in America all the way from the Kansas
industrial court to the United States Railway Labor board and compulsory arbitration tribunals.

In America many statesmen have wished to make capital and labor get together in the public interest, but public opinion alone has been relied upon to force peace. Over here Premier Mussolini has used the strong arm and certainly has brought about
a change in the atmosphere.
"Look here, these men are striking
and we are over-run by Communists
and Reds with an impotent government at Rome looking on without corrective action."

IMPOSSIBLE IN U. S.

Opinions may differ as to whether fascism would be a good or bad thing for America, but the method used by Mussolini to get power, namely, a "march on Rome" with the legion of war veterans behind him would hardly apply in the United States.
Examples of Fascist practice are so numerous with the exercise of governmental power that an analogy
with American experience is difficult to give. But let us take the steel business. Supposing a strike develops. The Fascist government tells the workers they must not strike and threatens penalties if they do, but it does not end there. On the contrary, the Fascist officials then go to the employers and say, in effect:
"Look here, these men are striking
for more pay and better hours. We shall examine your books and, your profits and see if you can increase their pay."

USE "STRONG ARM"

If the investigation proves that better wages and hours should be granted, the Fascist use strong arm methods with the employers and compel acceptance of the increase. If, on the other hand, the workers' demands
should prove unjustified, the workers are told to go back to work and keep on under the penalty of the club.

The government has under arms 300,000 "black shirts" who function as a sort of constabulary, carrying out the orders of the executive, not being

VILLA'S MURDER POLITICAL CRIME

Mexico City—The assassination of Francisco Villa was a political crime,
according to a long report prepared by the special committee of investigation, which congress sent to the scene of the killing. The document was submitted Wednesday at a private sitting of the majority members of the lower house.

The commission withholds the names of the persons involved in the assassination, leaving congress to decide this point.

Toronto, Ont.—David Lloyd George,
former premier of Great Britain, will make his proposed visit to the United States and Canada this fall, addressing the world brotherhood congress in this city, October 14, officials of the Episcopal church announced Thursday.

North American cities which Mr.
Lloyd George will visit include Winnipeg, Detroit, and New York.

RUMOR SAYS NEW HEIR TO EX-KAISER BORN LAST MAY

Berlin—It is rumored insistently in German monarchist circles that a son was born to the ex-kaiser and the new-kaiserin, Princess Hermine, in May last and is at present in the kaiserin's Silesian castle at Sabor, thus explaining her frequent trips between Dorsten and Sabor during the last six weeks.

HOLD UP PERMIT TO PAPER FIRM TO BUILD MILL

Council Told That Riverside
Plans Call For Building
Over Watermain

Decision of the common council to grant the Riverside Fibre and Paper company 14 feet of South Division-st.
in exchange for 140 feet of the company's property to enable the company to build its new mill according to its plans, may be revoked.

When the matter was reconsidered
at the meeting of the council Wednesday evening it was decided, that the council visit the location in a body after R. M. Connelly has completed a survey of this territory.

This action was taken after the council learned from Mr. Connelly that the Riverside company would be building over a city water main. The engineer said he had not given the company a building permit and could not very well give it a permit to build on a city street.

Alderman A. W. Laabs declared that, although he voted to make the concession to the paper company, he believes now that the city had no authority to change the street line without the signatures of property owners owning land 1,000 feet in each direction.

NEED LAND TO BUILD

The site of the new mill is between the two bridges on South Division-st.
The paper company asserted it did not have the necessary room to build on one side of the street line only, and that if the city did not vacate 14 feet
of it, the company would rather not build at all.

The council had previously decided to "swap" 14 feet with the company, provided the company would pay for the expense of filling and the building of walks and the like. The engineer now finds that the water main would also have to be relocated with considerable expense, and that the street
would be crooked and would present
a situation somewhat similar to that at the Fox River Paper company.

Alderman Charles Fose said he had no objection to the street's irregular line, as long as the street is wide enough.

COPELAND SAYS G. O. P. FAILED TO MEET CRISIS

New York Senator Claims Farmer Suffered More Than Rest Of Society

By Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga.—Charging that the Republican party has "misserably and ignominiously failed" and expressing his confidence that the Democratic party will again come into power, Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, in extended address before the Georgia general assembly Thursday discussed some of the chief factors entering into the problems. These, he brought out, were transportation and conservation of natural resources. The effect of these upon the farmer, laboring man, war veterans, and country
at large were especially stressed.

"We are living in a remarkable period of the world's history," the senator declared in his opening remark.
"No matter how complex, how compelling, how disturbing, how heartbreaking any other time may have been, I doubt if the souls of men have ever been tried more than they are at this time."

FARMERS SUFFER MOST

"The farmer," Senator Copeland said, "has suffered more than all the rest of society." He named agriculture as the fundamental industry of America as well as of many other countries, and asserted that "unless the farmer prospers there cannot be permanent prosperity for any nation."
"As I view it, two things are essential to the welfare of the farmer. The first of these is education of the public as to the need of the farmer and national importance of his welfare."
As a second essential of the solution of the problem, he advocated change
in the tariff, intraportation and taxation, and the restoration of foreign markets.

Mellon May Talk Debts To Poincare

Paris—Secretary of the Treasury
Andrew Mellon will meet Premier Poincare on Friday at the Quai D'Or-say, immediately after the secretary's return from his tour of the devastated regions.

Ambassador Myron T. Herrick will introduce Mr. Mellon to the premier, and will remain during the conversation, which the embassy declares will be "purely a formal talk evolving out of a courtesy call on the premier."

Nevertheless, the announcement of Mr. Mellon's proposed meeting with Mr. Poincare has created a flurry in French political circles. It is believed that Mr. Mellon's conferences in London bore directly on the relationship of the inter-allied debts to reparations, and the French welcome
the chance to counteract whatever ideas Prime Minister Baldwin may have advanced to Mr. Mellon on that subject. Particularly is the foreign office here anxious to find out the result of the United States to the proposed postponement of all inter-allied debts until the problems of the reparations are settled.

WHITFIELD IS TROUBLED AT NEW EVIDENCE

Prosecution Would Reopen Case
As Victim's Revolver
Is Found

By Associated Press
Cleveland—Patrolman Dennis Grif-fin's police revolver, missing since May 11, when he was murdered, was in the hands of police Thursday and County Prosecutor Stanton announced he will attempt to use it as evidence against John L. Whitfield when the accused man takes the witness stand in his own defense Thursday in his trial for the alleged murder of Griffin.

The state closed its case Wednesday. Stanton will attempt to reopen the state's case against Whitfield so as to introduce the revolver as direct evidence.
Whitfield at first professed no interest when told of the finding of the slain officer's revolver saying "that's nothing. That won't help them any."
Shortly thereafter he seemed to reconsider the pose effects the gun might have and became ill at ease and asked for one of his attorneys.

MORE WITNESSES IN GARRETT TRIAL

State Hears Testimony Of 12 Who Saw Shooting Of Minister

By Associated Press
Cumberland Courthouse, Va.—A number of state witnesses, in addition to the 12 who told eye witness stories Wednesday of the killing of the Reverend E. S. Pierce, remained to be heard Thursday in the trial of Larkin C. Garrett, charged with murder in connection with the minister's death.

Three of the twelve Wednesday testified that Garrett fired a pistol during the fight which ended in the Reverend Pierce's death in front of his home last June. William M. Smith, another witness, testified the minister fired the first shot. On cross examination he said the first two shots were so nearly simultaneous he was not sure whether the first shot was fired
by the slain man or R. O. Garrett, brother of the defendant, who will be tried later on a murder charge. The witness testified that he did not see Larkin Garrett fire a shot.

Mr. Smith, who is the county commonwealth's attorney, brought to court two revolvers which he said were in possession of the Garretts and had been kept in his safe, untouched, since the hour of the shooting. When examined, one was found to contain five empty and one loaded shell, and the other, two empty and four loaded shells. Robert Pierce, the minister's son testified that Larkin Garrett fired
a pistol held by his father had been accidentally discharged toward the ground when Robert Garrett jerked a shot gun from the minister's hands. Mr. Pierce said she did not see her husband fire a shot.

Rumors Involve State Officials In "Parties"

TIME IS CHIEF FACTOR IN CURE OF PRESIDENT

General Sawyer Finds Harding's Temperature Normal And Pulse Satisfactory

WARNING AGAINST RELAPSE

Dismissal Of Secret Service
Guards Indicates Further Recovery

By Associated Press
Palace
Hotel, San Francisco—The official bulletin issued by President Harding's physicians at 9:45 A. M. Thursday said that the chief executive had several hours of restful sleep during the night and that he had expressed himself as except for the marked exhaustion of an acute illness, "feeling better this morning."

The physicians said in the statement that while recovery would take
"some little time" they were more confident Thursday than heretofore
as to the outcome of Mr. Harding's illness.

The condition of the president's lungs, affected Monday by pneumonic symptoms, showed definite improvement.

The bulletin follows:
9:30 A. M.—The president had several hours of restful sleep during the night and except for the marked exhaustion of an acute illness, expressing himself as feeling easier this morning. "The temperature, 98.2 degrees;
pulse 100, and respiration from 32 to 40."

"The lung condition shows definite improvement. Small quantities of food are being taken and elimination remains satisfactory."
"While recovery will ostensibly take some little time, we are more confident than heretofore as to the outcome of his illness."

Signed
"C. E. Sawyer, M. D.
Ray Lyman Wilbur, M. D.
C. M. Cooper, M. D.
J. T. Boone, M. D.
Hubert Work, M. D."

Presidential Headquarters, Palace
Hotel, San Francisco—Time seemed Thursday to be the chief element in the recovery of President Harding. It also was regarded by his physicians
as one of the most uncertain.

The question "when will the president be able to travel?" found about as many different answers among members of the presidential party as there are surgeons in the party. The physicians attending the chief executive, however, would not even yet
Thursday venture an opinion.

"The president's convalescence is going to take time," said Brigadier General Sawyer, his physician, but in answer to the question as to how much time, all that General Sawyer would say was:

"You never can elect a time to be a sick man. You likewise never can elect a time to be well." One thing was certain and that was that the president was making progress toward recovery at the beginning of the day. He obtained considerable sleep
during the night, and just before he dropped off to sleep General Sawyer
"took stock" as he phrased it, and found all indications favorable.

Among these indications was a normal temperature, less labored and more regular breathing, and a pulse that while still rather high, seemed to show no indications of increasing.

DR. SAWYER CONFIDENT

General Sawyer has shortly before demonstrated his own confidence in the favorableness of the indications
by going out for an automobile ride
The nurse, Miss Ruth Powderly, during the evening led the hotel for the first time since the president was brought here Sunday. She was directed by Mrs. Harding to take a walk in the fresh air.

Mrs. Harding herself, has not been outside the hotel since she entered it Sunday morning immediately after arriving in San Francisco. Warning was given by General Sawyer Wednesday night and repeated by one or two of the other doctors that too
rapid recovery should not be expected. General Sawyer asked that it be remembered that the president still was a sick man and also that there might be some "ups and downs." For these reasons it appeared that the physicians would be reluctant to an-

Medic Feeds Hungry Gent Toy Balloon

By Associated Press
Chicago—A hungry man visited the psychology department of the University of Chicago. He was hungry because he suffered from indigestion
and was afraid to eat.

Dr. Arno B. Luckhardt, head of the department persuaded the hungry
one to swallow a toy balloon to which a rubber pipe with bellows had been attached. The balloon was then pumped full of air and the subject's hunger vanished.

"Thus it appears that an extended stomach simulates the sensation of a square meal," the doctor said Wednesday night in an address before the convention of the American Home Economic association meeting in Mandel hall.

"When we valved out the air and collapsed the balloon the subject again experienced the pangs of hunger."

SEVEN MINING FIRMS FINISH IMMENSE DEAL

Consolidated Companies Have Authorized Capitalization
Of $62,500,000

By Associated Press
New York—The committee considering the consolidation of the Calumet
and Hecla Mining Co., the Ahmeek Mining Co., the Allouez Mining Co., the Centennial Copper Co., and
the Osceola Consolidated Mining Co., Thursday announced it had agreed upon the plan of consolidation which provides for an authorized capitalization of 2,500,000 shares at $25 par value.

The new company will issue 2,005, 302 shares to stockholders of constituent companies and the remaining shares will be reserved for general corporate purposes. The new shares will be distributed as follows: Ahmeek, $36,000, Allouez $0,000, Calumet and Hecla, 1,205,398, Centennial 34,000, and Osceola 142,994.

At one time during the legislature,
the report was published that a member of the assembly was found by the night watchman in a state office in the company of a girl. There was a momentary demand for an inquiry
but it died as quickly as it sprang into being. Then came a report of a certain party involving at least two prominent state officials, a drink party
and a girl stenographer in the capitol.
There were statements made to the effect that a member of the supreme court was called back from a vacation
as a consequence of this event when disclosures were threatened.

BOOZE PARTIES

Other stories from a number of sources have been told of liquor parties in the capitol, which have never been denied. A number of well-known state officials were involved.

These alleged "parties" caused the Madison law enforcement committee of 100 to ask an investigation by the legislature and led the committee on legislative procedure of the senate to introduce a resolution recommended for adoption asking an inquiry. This was killed by one vote.

Senator Severson, who has demanded an investigation from the start,
said at the time that the matter had not been denied. Governor Blaine has consistently taken the position that proof should be laid before him
of any improper activities of state officials, and that he will act. His office claims that he has tried to investigate charges but without result,
and that he is interested in receiving any information available.

GAS FROM STOVE KILLS AGED MINNEAPOLIS PAIR

By Associated Press
Minneapolis—William Johnson, 82,
and his wife, 75, were asphyxiated in their home here Wednesday night by gas escaping from a leaky stove connection. Neighbors found the aged man kneeling beside his wife's bed.

THREE INDUSTRIES IN PROSPECT FOR LOCATIONS HERE

Representatives Outline Proposals To Chamber of Commerce Committee

Four men seeking locations in Appleton for industries conferred with the industrial finding committee of the chamber of commerce at a meeting Wednesday evening in the chamber offices. Thorough interviews were obtained and the committee is preparing recommendations which it will submit to the board of directors.

E. D. Edstrom and Arthur Frankie of Chicago, are desirous of locating a plant in Appleton to manufacture a patented window shade. They exhibited their product and explained their needs.

Albert Dahms, Chicago, a member of the board of directors of the Aid Association for Lutherans, and Mr. Avery of Minneapolis, seek a plant in which to produce an air cooled engine which seems to be quite a success and with sales possibilities.

One of the engines will be sent here and will be demonstrated before the board of directors so they can decide the merits for themselves, the committee was informed.

Word also is expected from Mack Manufacturing company, Minneapolis, concerning removal to Appleton. This company has been investigated quite thoroughly and is considering the proposals made by the Appleton chamber for locating here. It makes a signet arm for automobiles to take the place of hand traffic signals now resorted to by drivers.

The committee has not announced its attitude toward these industries but will make its decision known in its report to the directors.

FASCISTI WATCH OVER LABOR PARTY

Especially meticulous about legal technicalities—the end justifies the means. Frequently the government has forced land owners to increase the wages of labor on the farms, and through the Fascist labor organizations, has even decided upon the number of men that must be employed by the individual land owners. All this has had a stimulating effect on industry as a whole, but has left a certain amount of rancor which may be some day the basis of a political counter-attack against the Fascists though at the moment there is no organized opposition worth mentioning.

STOPS AT NOTHING

It is a mistake, however, to suppose that the Fascist theories have been definitely applied, for fundamentally fascism is not a scientific doctrine but a feeling of intense patriotism which will stop at nothing to achieve its end. Not only capital and labor, but every phase of economic, artistic, and intellectual life must be subordinated to what the dictators—the men at the top of the "hierarchy"—construe as "national interest." No class permanently can dominate the government but that interest is momentarily favored while seems to benefit the nation most. It may on one occasion mean conservatism, and on another radicalism. The theory is that the public interest affects the greatest number of people and that highest patriotism is achieved when the people as a whole are contented.

Again and again Mussolini has affirmed that he is a friend of the working classes:

"Let them give up their international doctrine and I will give them a square deal," he says.

The Mussolini doctrine is not intended as a democratic participation by workers in the management, but simply a species of paternalism in which the government decides how much the workers shall get and sees that they get it.

Today the business interests who have just escaped from the real threat of bolshevism are supporting Mussolini's government and doctrine, but the experiment has not gone far enough for anyone to say whether it will endure.

CITY STARTS BLIND MAN IN BUSINESS

Norwood, O.—Did you ever hear of a city setting a man up in business? Giving him a plot of ground? Then building him a store?

That's exactly what this city of about 25,000 population did for Joe Reid.

Joe is blind. From boyhood he always has supported himself and that's the spirit Norwoodites like to see. He has in the past tried many kinds of work, but officials and citizens noticed that he was best as a salesman. Finally he became a huckster, but his blindness cut that short. Then officials stepped in. They built a store at the corner of Smith road and Montgomery pike. Joe sells candy and tobacco, with the accent on the latter. And he's coming along nicely.

Norwood as a city is rather remarkable in itself. It is almost completely surrounded by Cincinnati. But it won't come into the greater city. Many Cincinnati people work in Norwood, and many Norwood people labor in Cincinnati. But despite their close identity, Norwood prefers to remain "independent" as a city.

And that spirit, she carried to her citizens.

SWEDEN PLANS BIG CUT IN ARMY COSTS

Army Reduced By Half, And Considerable Reduction Of Navy Called For

By Associated Press
Stockholm—A reduction of the Swedish army by half, and a considerable reduction of the number of Swedish vessels except those of the battleship class, has just been recommended to the government by a special commission on the revision of the national defense policy.

The plan proposed by the commission calls for an annual total appropriation of about $33,000,000 for the army and navy, as against about twice that amount under the present policy. This reduction is to be effected by abolishing seven regiments of infantry, four regiments of cavalry, and one regiment of artillery, and by requiring a small number of companies to make up a regiment. The new army would consist of twenty-one regiments of infantry, five of cavalry, nine of artillery, and thirteen regiments of engineers, army supply service, etc. Of the recruits called up annually, 15,000 men would serve for a period of 6 to 12 months in the first line of the army, 27,000 men for a period of 2 to 3 months would be in the immediate reserves, and 3,000 men would serve in the navy. Thus in case of war Sweden, by calling up ten classes of the army and navy, would bring upwards of half a million men into action.

The navy, under the new policy, would consist of 14 battleships, 1 armored cruiser, 5 mine layers, 7 gun boats, 10 destroyers, 27 torpedo boats, and 21 smaller craft. The annual appropriation for the navy is cut from 70,000,000 kronor to about 40,000,000 or about $10,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sutherland and son Philip, 572 Minor-st. left Thursday morning for Spokane, Wash., where they will visit Mr. Sutherland's mother, Mrs. P. E. VanOrnum.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS OF COUNTY TO MEET HERE ON AUGUST 15

State Supervisor Of Rural Schools Will Be Principal Speaker

School officials from all over the county will come to Appleton on Wednesday, Aug. 15, to attend the annual meeting of school boards of more than 130 school districts of Outagamie-co. The convention will take place in Lawrence Memorial chapel, and there will be both morning and afternoon sessions.

George S. Dick, supervisor of rural schools of the state department of education, will be the principal speaker. He is known as an interesting speaker and understands how to entertain as well as edify. A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, also will speak. Matters pertaining to school advancement, bettering of school equipment, sanitation, ventilation, and the like will be discussed.

A good attendance of school clerks and other board members, as well as teachers and parents of school children is expected. There is this difference in the pressure to be brought upon them. Teachers and parents are invited to attend, school board members ought to attend and school clerks must attend, according to the provisions of the statutes. Expenses of $4 per diem and 3 cents a mile for round

Man 74 Years Old Is "Rejuvenated" In 3 Weeks Without Gland Operation

Kansas Contractor Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained in Test of New Scientific Discovery

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on his test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me 'young' again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, D. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 60 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than for years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain glands and blood vessels, it often brings amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours, according to thousands who have tested it.

"It is wonderful," writes a resident of Hollister, Cal. "In less than 24 hours you can feel it does the work. It makes one feel young as a young man. I am more than happy and glad I tried it." Another Californian says: "The compound is a world's wonder. I feel like I was about 25 and here I am nearly fifty!"

The compound has been tested in all parts of the country and has won the praises of thousands who suffered

DEFER ACTION ON WATER PLANT BIDS

Appleton Company Submit Proposals For Installing New Apparatus

Bids for installation of two generators and for an oil heating system were opened at the meeting of the Appleton water commission Wednesday.

Only local electrical contractors submitted proposals on the generators. They were Langstadt-Meyer company, Langstadt Electric company and Kurz & Root Electric company. Because of certain indefinite details in one bid, all were held over for future awarding of contract.

There were four bids on the oil heating system ranging from $600 to $1,000. Appleton contractors bidding were John Engle Heating company and Hayton Pump and Blower company. Action on these bids also was deferred to a later date.

The June financial report credited the water department with a month's profit of $1,400.74. Fred R. Morris, assistant secretary of the water commission, was instructed to order 100 meters of five eighths inch type from the Hersey Manufacturing company of South Boston, Mass., at a price

Driver Forgets To Signal Stop; Hit From Rear

The motorcycle of Joseph Bayer, Appleton "speedy" was crippled in an automobile accident Wednesday. But the state of incapacitation was of short duration.

Bayer's machine crashed into the Dodge automobile truck owned by Bretschneider Furniture company at 2:15 Wednesday afternoon on Midway. The truck was driven by E. H. Berg who was heading north on Appleton-st and stopped short at Midway, without indicating his intention to stop, according to Officer Bayer. He stopped to let another car pass out of Midway. The stop caused Bayer's vehicle to hit the rear of the truck.

The damage to the motorcycle consisted only of a bent fork and a broken headlight and horn, but the repairs were made by Bayer and Mechanician Albert Deltgen within an hour's time.

MASONIC ORDERS TO HAVE 'HUT AT CAMP'

At the close of the two weeks encampment this year of Company D, the local division of the Wisconsin state guard, plans were made to establish a tent for the use of members of the DeMolay and Masonic orders next year.

The movement was started because of the number of persons in camp belonging to the two orders and was arranged partly through the influence of Richard Nelson, past master councillor of the local John F. Rose chapter, order of DeMolay. The purpose of the tent will be much the same as that of the Y. M. C. A. Entertainments will be given every evening for the members of the lodges who are in camp. It is possible that more than one tent will be established for the work.

Captain Herbert E. Bedding of Oshkosh who was active in starting the movement will be general manager of the work at Camp Douglas, and Captain Leo Levenick of Madison will take charge of the official work. Support also will be given by A. Olson of the Y. M. C. A. bureau at Camp Douglas and Clyde Hecker of the local Y. M. C. A. but at present assisting Mr. Olson.

The movement also will be started at Camp Custer during August.

BUILDING PERMITS

The month of August started off well in the office of the city building inspector, when on Wednesday, Aug. 1, six building permits carrying cost estimates of $5,735 were issued. Three were for porches, one for a new home, one for a garage, and one for an addition to the Exide Battery Service company.

New permits are as follows: Hiram Johnson, 784 North-st, porch, O. W. Nitschke, 691 Harris-st, porch, Mrs. A. C. Lewis, 704 Spring-st, porch, Herman Timm, 549 Douglas-st, garage, Nick Dohr, Second-ave, residence, Exide Battery Service company, 1017 College-ave, concrete addition.

COOPERATIVE THRESHERS ARE READY FOR BUSINESS

A cooperative organization of farmers in the town of Center operating a threshing machine is almost ready to begin threshing. Repairs are being made on the outfit by Louis H. Stecker so that the machine will be ready for use next week. Very little threshing has been done thus far, and that was done from the fields. Farmers are expected to finish their grain cutting by the end of this week.

PROVIDE MORE ROOM FOR POSTAL TRUCKS

Further alterations on the grounds of the Appleton postoffice have been authorized by the United States treasury department, according to advice received by Postmaster William H. Zuehlke.

Because of lack of loading and unloading room at the cement platform, a part of a grass plat at the northeast corner of the postoffice is to be converted into a cement driveway. This will enable trucks to back up to the platform from three sides. Shrubbery in this plat will be moved further south. The postoffice will advertise for bids at once.

At the same time a cement platform is to be built on which a bicycle rack will be placed for the convenience of the employees using bicycles. They will thus be out of the way of motortrucks and rural carriers delivering automobiles.

Pictures of Schools

Pictures of exteriors of the proposed east and west side junior high school are displayed in the windows of First Trust Co. The board of education is making preparations to obtain bids for construction of the buildings in the near future.

I SPIED TODAY

POOR FATHER

Wednesday morning when I was walking on North-st. I saw some girls and boys having a sort of procession in which were two bicycles, a cart and an Irish mail cart. I asked the children what they were doing and they told me that it was the funeral of a robin they had found.

The details of the funeral and burial had been carefully worked out. The bird was in a cigar box in one of the carts and the box was covered with flowers. After a little while I went to inspect the grave in the backyard. It had a grave stone on which were the dates of birth and death of the bird, but the most interesting thing to me was the wreath of clover with a piece of paper in the center on which was written the word "Father."

M S

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Hughes returned Wednesday evening to their home, 775 Franklin-st., after a five weeks' automobile trip through northern Wisconsin and Michigan.

NEW FARMER-CITY MOVEMENT
Cooperation of the agriculturist and the city dweller, not for political purposes, but for finding a common ground on which to work together for economic advancement, is receiving a splendid stimulus through the meetings of farmers and city folks arranged by the progressive farmers of Outagamie county and the Appleton Chamber of Commerce. Politicians long ago began urging a union of farmer and labor for political ends, preaching that the cure for ill of the farmer can be found in legislative halls if he will combine with the laboring man to do the seeking.
Cooperation of the new order, as exemplified at the recent meeting of farmers and city businessmen at the Emory Meltz farm in Greenville, relegates politics to the background and concentrates on economics. Farmers have learned from experience that their troubles cannot be removed by legislation; that they must seek further to find a way out of the difficulties into which they were plunged by the world upheaval.
A new route was pointed out at the first meeting of farmers and businessmen last week. It was found by the farmers themselves. They learned that the business man in the city, with his long experience at arriving at accurate costs, his ability at organizing his markets and his faculties for placing his wares before the public, can help put the farmer back on his feet by giving him the benefit of his experience.
It is in this exchange of experiences and of suggestions that the success of farm-city cooperation lies. Farmers are businessmen, not politicians, and the greatest possibilities for help are in business, not political, cooperation.
Both farmer and city dweller long have recognized that neither can exist without the other but heretofore they have been unable to find a common ground for working together effectively. Outagamie county, by arranging informal meetings of farmers and city folks, is blazing a new trail of cooperation. A splendid start was made last week. More of these meetings, conducted in the same helpful spirit, should bring about a close union of farmer and city dweller working together for the common welfare.

REVISE THE TARIFF DOWNWARD
When the British government acts, as it seems about to do, for cooperation with us in stopping the smuggling operations of Britishers against our prohibition law we regard it as a proof of friendliness, and rightly; for Britain as a whole disagrees with us as to the method of meeting the liquor problem, there is plenty of British sympathy with smugglers, and indeed smuggling is a great share of the commerce of some of Britain's colonial possessions.
Something of the same access of good will would follow a reasonable revision on our part of the Fordney-McCumber tariff to a rate basis which would permit English manufacturers and the manufacturers of her colonies and dominions to enter this country under duties high enough to even up the costs of production here and abroad.
Domestic reasons for amending the absurdly high tariff rates now in effect, which shut out foreign products until the American price has been run up by monopoly to profiteering levels, are becoming increasingly obvious and are the basis of complaint everywhere, particularly on the farms. Yet the foreign aspect is almost equally important.
We have a number of war-poor customers abroad who are awaiting doggedly a turn for the better. The central European situation, has ruined the neat cogging of their trade. Thousands of their citizens are living only out of government doles, which create paupers. They are looking hopefully to the diplomats, and even more hopefully—and perhaps mistakenly—to America.
They want us to write off a large share of the common war debts and help them to unshoulder their burden and get going again. This method is probably the wrong one, and quite certainly an unpopular one from the American viewpoint. But it is possible for us, without handing out this kind of charity, to help Europe to help herself.
Our customers abroad have lived by the movement of goods through their hands and on their ships. When America builds great ships and enters the carrying trade, for example, she reduces the already seriously damaged trade of her debtors and destroys part of their capacity to recover and pay up. But a merchant marine being a commodity which experience has proved a nation cannot do well without, the question of taking away foreign profits from cargo transport is past argument. About the only easy and safe way to assist Europe without harming or endangering ourselves is to give the European a fair access to our markets.
A fair access means one which wipes out by a duty the advantage of the foreign manufacturer in the way of cheap labor and cheap materials, and then permits him to enter the market on an even cost basis with the American, competing with him on profits only. The Fordney tariff evens the costs and then tacks on an extra 35 or 50 per cent duty so that the foreigner is shut out until the American tariff trust has milked the American public of a big monopoly profit.
Foreign trade under a fair tariff is a boon to the American people because it brings in a competition which keeps prices at fair levels. It hurts no manufacturer who is satisfied with a reasonable competitive profit. It creates large credits here from imports, which keep trade moving at the selling as well as the buying end. And it is a splendid boon to the neighbor who needs commerce and a means of income.
The United States at this time could by no other single act achieve a greater meed of Europe in good will and customer revival than by the amendment, both through executive application of the "flexible" provisions and by special congressional act next winter, of the Fordney-McCumber tariff.

MAGNUS IN THE SENATE
The conservative organ of a national business men's association asks: "Will the people of Minnesota kindly keep an accurate record of the great benefits which will accrue to them through the election of Mr. Johnson?"
Engaged in belaboring Minnesota, the nation could just as well save its breath by sitting down and letting time administer the spanking. If the new senator is as vociferous, as gallus-snapping and as ignorant as he is said to be, the senate soon will reduce him to a humble and abject state.
If the senate does not settle him to the calm of submission and routine, and actually gets down and does something for him, then Minnesota will have the last laugh. The critics of Minnesota, trying to administer a lesson in advance of experience, could afford to leave the teacher business to the senate, for it is one of the best little sieves of greatness and mediocrity known.
It does not wear lognettes, but it wields a big stick of committee appointments and absent quorums—great silences in which Magnus Johnson could echo on forever without waking a page.
If he has a practical idea for raising the price of wheat or improving the lot of the farmer, and has the sense to put it cleverly before the senate, he will have a hearing. He will be listened to just as long as he is worth listening to, and no longer. He may talk longer, and spread himself farther over the congressional record, but it will be waste wind.
The reason so large a part of the country is worked up over Magnus Johnson is because he frankly admitted he had no ideas. He may develop some. At any rate, the senate is perfectly capable of defending itself. If necessary, it can make of Magnus Johnson a vacancy of one in the representation of Minnesota.

IS LIVER FOOD?
In the days that, alas, are gone forever, when one could get no less than three pounds of round steak (and round is the most nutritious steak there is) for a quarter—and it was very dear at that price if one had no quarter, as not many have—there could get some liver for nothing, the butcher's contributing the paper and string and his smiles for the sole purpose of cultivating a customer's good will. Now, if one wants some liver, one pays 15 to 20 cents a pound for it and explains to the bored market man that it is for the cat.
Liver is great stuff for young cats, young lions, young trout and young children to grow on. Grated liver is fed every few hours to the young trout in hatcheries, and you can actually see them growing on it. Predatory animals instinctively eat the liver of their prey, sometimes little else from the kill. Until somebody thought of feeding liver to the whelps it was impossible to raise young lions in captivity, for they invariably developed rickets and became deformed and unsightly beasts unfit for exhibit. But now lions are successfully reared in zoological gardens, where they get not merely meat with large bones attached which they cannot gnaw, but liver, fat and bone, which they can eat without choking, with occasional small animals such as rabbits or pigeons, which they can eat and digest.
When we used to get liver for nothing we imagined it was good for nothing except to tickle the palate. People are always like that. Right now a lot of folks imagine that porterhouse and other expensive cuts of meat are better than the cheaper cuts, whereas the reverse is more often true. We used to feel a little ashamed to ask the butcher for liver when it was free; we still feel a little ashamed to buy it at its actual value.
Liver contains as large a proportion of protein as does lean meat, according to some recent studies in nutrition the protein of liver is superior to that of lean meat. A pound of liver yields about 650 calories of energy, and a pound of beefsteak yields about the same amount of energy. Therefore a man gets all the nourishment and "strength" out of liver that he can get out of beefsteak.
Liver contains something which steak scarcely furnishes at all—vitamins. Liver, indeed, vies with raw cabbage, fresh raw carrots, fresh raw milk, orange juice, tomato juice, and cod liver oil, as a source of vitamins. Liver contains the three important vitamins as compared with yeast, which contains one. Liver at 15 to 20 cents a pound is a much more economical buy than beefsteak.
I exercise admirable restraint in resisting the temptation to suggest various things which the vitamins in liver will do, such as curing exophthalmia (inflammation with dryness and roughness of the clear coat of the eyeball), preventing the eyelids from falling out, curing night blindness, and improving the condition of the hair, for you never can tell about such effects till you try eating more liver.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Heard You The First Time
Two weeks ago I asked you for some suggestions on the development of certain parts of the body and in reply I received an interesting letter about the care of the hair. —Miss B. M.
Answer—The hair is a part of the body, so you can't call it an inexcusable error. However, mistakes will happen in the best regulated offices and I apologize if you ask for anything you did not ask for. Please return the letter which you received by mistake and repeat your question so that I may correct the mistake, if possible.
Schoolgirl's Query
Please state what the name of the medicine is that prevents goitre in schoolgirls, and how to administer it.—Mrs. A. F.
Answer—Iodin, in one form or another, but very minute homeopathic doses. The common mahogany colored tincture of Iodin (Iodin is new spelling for Iodine) is quite satisfactory, just one drop being taken by the boy or girl in a glassful or more of water once a week. A proprietary organic Iodin preparation called Iodostarine, is marketed in tablet form; agreeable to take; one tablet once a week for children, as a preventive of goitre; Iodostarine is much used in the mass treatment or prevention among school children in Michigan and other places where goitre is endemic. Aside from its convenience and ease of administration, however, the proprietary preparation has no advantage over common tincture of Iodin for this purpose.

The Reformers' Long Suit
We sympathize with the farmers because wheat is below the dollar mark, but we also have our troubles. Skirts are below the knees too, and we can't understand why the women didn't keep right on saving cloth, just as they did to win the war. The farmers blame the Republicans. We blame the radicals, because it seems this hero fashion business always goes to extremes like the reformers do.

Bathtub Proves Great Risk For Insurance Firms
(From The Baltimore Sun.)
Are your highly polished floors dangerous? Does the slippery surface of your bathtub constitute a hazard? Accident insurance agencies answer "Yes" to both questions.
Although claims of this nature in no wise monopolize statistical columns devoted to classifications, yet their appearances are declared to be sufficiently frequent to have passed beyond the "freak" stage.
RUGS ADD TO DANGER
A number of accident department heads affirmed yesterday their nonchalance upon receipt of claims from "risks" who have slipped on a polished floor or who have suffered disastrous skidding on rugs placed on these floors.
"Slippery floors prove bete noirs in the best-regulated families," one superintendent said yesterday, "and it is only natural and correct to assume that a number of this kind of falls result in claims against insurance companies."
"They form a considerable item in the general category of 'falls' which probably necessitate the payment of more money than any other cause of disability. Falling out of bed also is a popular cause for claim and of course there are the general run of falls down steps, on slippery sidewalks and many other 'classifications.'"
Another superintendent disclosed that falls in bathtubs are not the most unusual form of claim and cited the instance of a claim handled by his office where the victim not only had sustained injuries to his head when it struck the side of the tub but also suffered a broken arm in trying to check his descent.
It is often the apparently humdrum form of existence which affords accident claims rather than the supposedly hazardous mode of living, it was pointed out.
RETURNED HOME TO FALL
The representative of a large life insurance corporation suggested the story of a man who, in anticipation of hazards encountered in a trip to Europe insured himself heavily against accident. The trip went through smoothly and on the morning after his return home he tripped on the carpet in his bedroom, fell to the floor and sustained severe injuries. Automobile accidents, agents agree, are pushing the "falls" type of accident hard for supremacy. At the present rate of increase, they declare, the motor vehicle hazard will have surpassed the more conventional and frequent type of accident.
Accident Made Indigo Success
(From The Nation's Business.)
During war times we found to our sorrow that Germany held almost a monopoly on the manufacture of dyestuffs. Prominent authorities held that the German dye manufacturers being properly warned, looked ahead to the time when Germany would be cut off from the rest of the world by war. The warning hastened their research for a synthetic indigo to replace the indigo imported from the orient. The problem of making synthetic indigo was a tremendous one which caused German chemists years and years of costly research work. Achi! This problem of a most baffling nature must, of certainty, be solved! So, with characteristics German patience and doggedness, the experiments were still carried on. They had reached a stage in their work where synthetic indigo was produced, but the cost of manufacture was so high that the product could never hope to be generally utilized in dye manufacture.
During the course of experiments an accident occurred, and on this accident success hinged. While taking temperature of a vat of the experimental fluid a thermometer broke. The chemist swore a volley and the work proceeded. At the conclusion of the test it was found that an unusually large yield of indigo resulted.
The chemist at once attached significance to the broken thermometer, and the increased yield and subsequent tests using certain varied proportions of mercury to the mass, proved the soundness of their suppositions. Thus was a long, costly and eminently successful research terminated by reason of an accident. From this point Germany controlled the export trade on Indigo dyes and in the orient the owners of large plantations wailed and bemoaned the unpleasant fact that there was no market for their indigo.

Q. Where can I get vaccine for vaccinating turkeys for sorehead, black head, etcetera? C. W. G.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that the use of vaccines for turkeys for poultry diseases is still in the experimental stage. Therefore, they can give no definite data on this subject.
Q. Has New York or Chicago increased in size faster since the Civil War? S. H. N.
A. Chicago has about nine times its population of Civil War times while the population of New York has merely quadrupled.
Q. What countries produce the most pig iron? F. S.
A. The United States stands first, producing 53 per cent of the world's supply last year, this amounting to 26,294,000 metric tons. Germany was next with 6,604,000 tons; France next with 5,129,000 tons; Great Britain next with 4,975,000 tons; and Belgium fifth with 1,858,000 tons.
Q. Why are the Fascists so called and what is their purpose? P. L. O.
A. Fascisti is the name given to the members of a scattering, voluntarily organized movement formed in Italy in 1920, to offset the work of the Reds. They have no definite program, and are of widely different political views, merely bound together by a strong national spirit. The name was taken from the Latin fasces. This Roman emblem of an ax in a bundle of rods was adopted as their official sign. Their object was to counteract the designs of the extreme Communists and Socialists.
Q. Which was in use first, daguerotypes, ferrotypes or ambrotypes? H. E. H.
A. Daguerotypes were invented first by Daguerre in 1839; ferrotypes or tintypes followed in 1844, and ambrotypes in 1851. Robert Hunt invented the tintype and Scott Archer the ambrotype.
Q. How was it possible for General Pershing to accept the British Order of the Bath since the law forbids it? W. D. N.
A. In the Army Appropriation Act approved July 9, 1915, it is provided that the provisions of the existing law relating to the award of medals of honor be amended. It is provided that American citizens who received August 1, 1914, decorations or medals for distinguished service in the armies or in connection with the field service of those nations engaged in war against Germany, on entering the military service of the United States in the World War, be authorized to accept during the period of the war or within one year thereafter, from the government of any of the countries engaged in war with any country with which the United States is or shall be likewise engaged in war, such decorations, when tendered, as are conferred by such government upon the members of its own military forces, and the consent of Congress required therefore by clause 18 of section 9 article 1 of the Constitution is hereby expressly granted: Provided, that any officer or enlisted man of the military forces of the United States is hereby authorized to accept and wear any medal or decoration heretofore bestowed by the government of any of the nations concurrently engaged with the United States in the World War.
Q. Are the oil lands of the Osage Indians taxed? Y. E. W.
A. The Government does not tax oil lands which are owned by the Indian wards of the nation.
Q. How does the present day army of Germany compare with that of France? H. H. W.
A. The Defense Force of Germany is 500,000. The Metropolitan Army of France is 335,000; the Army of Occupation numbers 150,000. Before the World War, the two countries also kept armies of nearly the same size.

One Grip All She'll Take To See World

Prima Donna Will Set New Record For Globetrotting Methods

Chicago—Nelly Bly's old record of around the world in eighty days was smashed early and often.

Clair Eugenia Smith, prima donna, millionaire, is off to set a new record, one harder for a woman to make and likely to stand longer. It is to go around the world with baggage reduced to a single suitcase.

One plain, black suitcase without trick extensions or evasions, will contain her whole wardrobe for the trip, with the exception of the cloak she carries on her arm. The outfit includes two sport suits, eight, light-weight dresses, shoes and frilly necessities, two panama hats and a toothbrush, comb and mirror. Jewellery is similarly reduced to one ring, one wrist watch and one necklace.

ONLY NECESSARIES
The outfit represents the absolute minimum of a veteran traveler. When articles wear out, new ones will be bought. In Japan she may wear a kimono and in Turkey, a veil.

Mrs. Smith is the wife of William E. Smith, who recently inherited $10,000,000 from his mother. Smith and three others complete the party, and the five, in light marching order, have only five traveling bags.

"I know all about baggage," says the owner of the suitcase, stopping here on the first lap of the journey from New York.

AH, SO THAT'S IT
"I've traveled with a dozen trunks, and I know the penalty one pays for that. I started to Europe last summer with two trunks and a big bag. But I left the trunks at the first stop on the way. When I got back to Paris on the way home, I'll have the excuse to lay in a wardrobe of new clothes."

To prove her faith in the baggage-less tour, Mrs. Smith in Chicago offered to take along Miss Margie McLeod, music critic here, provided she wouldn't carry any extra luggage.

Mrs. Smith appeared as prima donna last spring in grand opera in Philadelphia, and upon her return to America she says she intends to make a new attempt to establish a native opera theater in New York.

CHAMPION FRECKLE OWNER

MISS GERTRUDE WATTS

Here's a chance to win the freckle championship. Miss Gertrude Watts, of Newark, N. J., claims the honor in her city and state.

Know anybody who can beat her? Get out the mirror and start counting. Gertrude says she counted 1,356—and then got tired, because by that time most of her face and neck hadn't been tabulated at all.

"Mathematical calculation," says the photographer who snapped her picture, "would indicate that she has several hundred thousand freckles!"

If you don't believe it, get a magnifying glass and count 'em yourself."

Fills Man's Job As Water Plant Manager

Salina, Kas.—If a man were head of the Salina water works, furnishing 2,000,000 gallons of water daily to 17,000 inhabitants, that would be his day's work and he would be entitled to a good rest in the evening.

But a woman is head. So managing the Salina Water Works Company is only part of her daily task. She must fulfill her home duties, as every woman should. And she must not neglect her numerous social obligations.

That's what makes Mrs. Ella Bell a heroine in the eyes of the people of Salina.

Mrs. Bell believes she's the only woman city water works manager in the United States. For years she worked in the office with her husband who was manager. When he died two years ago the company put her in full charge and the work has moved on without a slip of a single cog.

That she is alive to every situation is attested by this circumstance:

Last spring the city planned a big paving program and ordered water mains installed in advance. This would have been easy if the railroad and the weather man had cooperated.

But while delivery of the pipe was delayed week after week, old Jupiter Pluvius got on the job. It rained continually until, when the pipe did come, the streets were soggy with mud. But Mrs. Bell had to get ahead of the paving contractor, so she had the ditches dug in the rain and laid the pipe. At one time the ditches, level full of water, had to be pumped out before the pipes could be laid.

"Of course, it wasn't pleasant digging ditches in the mud," Mrs. Bell comments, "but the boys knew it had to be done and they seemed just as eager to do it as I was to have it done."

"Yes, I like my job," she concludes. "I'm as much at home in the ditch as I am in the office."

V. OF A: TAG DAY HERE TO HELP FRIENDLESS

Tags will be sold on the streets Saturday, Aug. 4 by Volunteers of America for the benefit of women and children who have been left destitute and whose husbands and fathers are in prisons. The organization was founded a number of years ago by Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth and the care of such unfortunate persons is the work of one department of the society.

ARCHITECTS WORKING ON PLANS FOR BANK ADDITION

J. J. Sherman, president of the Citizens National bank has received word from the architects that they are going ahead with the plans for the addition to the bank. According to the architects all the objections of the state commission have been met so that the plans may be prepared at once. It was also necessary to get permission from the city to build the addition of the bank to a height of 39 feet.

Coolidge and Hodgdon of Chicago are the architects for the structure.

Dell LaMarche of Black Creek spent Thursday here on business.

Brushes And Brooms Need Special Care

The ideal arrangement for one's cleaning implements is to keep a complete set of them in a well-ventilated closet having a shelf for soaps, powders and other cleaning agents. Well-made, durable utensils are an economy if they are kept in good condition.

Of brooms and brushes most housekeepers feel that they need at least the following: A corn broom, a soft-hair brush on a long handle, a soft-hair dust-brush to use with the dustpan, a scrub-brush and a toilet-brush. Dust-pan, dust-brush and scrubbing-brush may have long handles if preferred. Special brushes for walls, radiators, upholstery, waxed floors and the refrigerator drain-pipe are often found desirable. Two mops are usually needed—a wet mop, which can be used more easily if a wringer-pail is provided, and a dry mop, either oiled or untreated. In addition, a carpet-beater and a floor-pail are almost indispensable, while many housekeepers consider a vacuum cleaner essential.

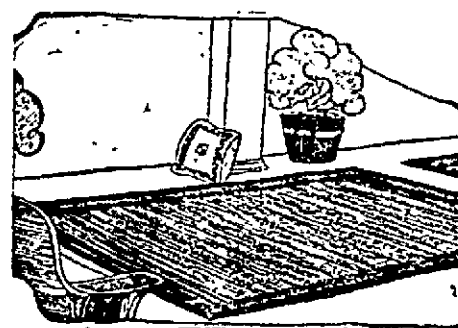

All brooms, brushes and mops should be hung by strings or screws fastened to the handles so that the weight does not rest on the straws, bristles or strings. Carpet-sweepers should be set so that the weight does not come on the brushes.

As far as possible, cleaning equipment should be put away clean and ready for use. Corn brooms may be washed in hot soapsuds, but care must be taken not to let the water rust the wires which hold the straws to the handle. The hair and lint which accumulates in brushes, especially in carpet-sweepers, may be taken out with an old button-hook, a coarse comb or old scissors. The box of a carpet-sweeper should be opened over dampened newspapers, the dirt emptied out and the brush cleaned.

The mechanism should be kept properly oiled. A vacuum carpet-sweeper is cleaned in the same way, but in addition the bag must be taken off and emptied. Bristle brushes may be washed with luke-warm water and a little alkali—either three teaspoons of dilute ammonia or one teaspoon of borax to a quart of water—and then rinsed in clear water. Care should be taken not to wet the back of the brush, or the cement holding the bristles in place may be loosened.—From the Designer Magazine.

SPARKS CIRCUS WILL SHOW HERE AUG. 25

A small circus and a small wild animal show will take the place of a large circus any day, is the opinion of some Appleton circus fans. That is exactly the entertainment that is in store for them.

Spark's wild animal circus intends to exhibit here on the College-ave and State-rd circus grounds on Aug. 25. A permit has been applied for in the office of E. L. Williams, city clerk. This will be the first visit of the Sparks show to Appleton, as far as Mr. Williams knows. The circus company has a train of about 20 cars.

The Walter L. Main circus which exhibited here this spring drew but a small attendance. But this is believed to have been the result of the announcement that Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey would show here. Their engagement was later canceled.

Special on Asters, Friday and Saturday.—Market Garden Flo. Co. Phone 1696.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR ADDITION TO SCHOOL AT ISAAR

Electors Meet And Decide To Double Size Of Structure—Start At Once

Special to Post-Crescent
Isaar—Overcrowding of the public school here is to be solved by the building of an addition that will double the size of the structure, the electors of the district voted at a meeting Wednesday night. The contract was awarded to Beyer Brothers of Seymour, whose bid was the lowest and amounted to $3,350.

Work is to be started immediately and the school is to be ready for occupancy Oct. 1. The full term will not be begun until that date, and an 8-month session will be held.

Nick Watney, Louis Ulmer and Otto Werner have been appointed a committee to find out if it were possible to enlarge the present school, after attempts to erect a new 2-room building had failed. The committee found the enlargement feasible and had plans prepared and bids obtained in readiness for the meeting Wednesday, which was an adjournment of the annual school meeting.

SELL CLOAKROOM
A frame unit of the building which had been used as an entrance and cloakroom will be detached and moved away. It was purchased by Otto Werner. The addition will be built at the west end, and will give two commodious class and study rooms, one for each teacher. There will be two cloakrooms. The new unit will be of brick to conform to the style of the old one.

The old school was built to accommodate 45 pupils, but 59 were in attendance last term. There will be a larger enrollment this year.

Louis Ulmer was appointed building inspector and will supervise the erection. John Kriener acted as secretary of the meeting in the absence of Louis Reis. The meeting was adjourned to Aug. 29 so the electors could be called together without a special session being arranged, in case matters concerning construction should come up.

MENASHA FACES STUMPFITES IN SUNDAY MATINEE

Trentman Slated To Oppose League Leading Fails In Kaukauna Park

Kaukauna—Menasha baseball club, which is tied with Sheboygan in the state league race, slated to appear with Eddie Stumpf's hirelings Sunday afternoon on the local grounds. Menasha has been easy meat for the Electric thus far this season and the faithful followers are looking for another win. There is a probability that a new player or two will be added for the matinee but nothing definite has been arranged.

There have been severe criticisms of a few of the players for "losing" last Sunday's fracas in Marinette. With two out and two strikes on the batter with the score 2 and 0 in favor of Kaukauna, the worm turned and gave the Twins a victory in 10 innings. In answer to the criticisms the management has said that no one player can be held responsible. It was just one of the breaks of the game, they said.

Bob Trentman will pitch again Sunday. Trentman holds his own with the best in the circuit and when he falls, his mates are handy enough with the stick to keep the club up near the top. Bues injured his shoulder sliding into home plate during last Sunday's game but is expected to resume his place at third base against Menasha.

STOLEN WIFE WORTH $6,000, COURT SAYS

Stevens Point—A judgment of $6,000 for William Helminak, who sued Frank Przekturat for alienation of his wife's affections, has been awarded by Judge Byron B. Park in Circuit court here.

In awarding the judgment the court denied motions for a new trial. The verdict of a jury which found compensatory damages of $5,000 and punitive damages of $5,000, was cut to $6,000 by the court.

Judge Park, in his decision, notified the plaintiff and his attorneys that unless $5,000 of the judgment was elected to be remitted by the plaintiff, the defendant's motion for a new trial would be granted. The plaintiff accepted the smaller judgment.

TROUSERS STOLEN, OFFERS TO "SHAKE" FOR COAT

By Associated Press
Racine—Theodore D. Bright, employed at the Western Printing company, is willing to take a sporting chance with the thief who entered his room early on Wednesday and stole a pair of trousers.

"Without coat and vest, the trousers practically are valueless," said Bright on Wednesday. "Now I propose to the burglar that he look me up—no questions will be asked—and shake a game of dice to determine who wins the entire suit."

Bright says that the offer is made in the best of faith. Possibly no questions will be asked, he states, as the theft has not even been reported in the building where it took place.

DISCOVERY OF HAFNIUM WILL BENEFIT SCIENCE

Copenhagen—Professor Nils Bohr, the discoverer of the new element, hafnium, has now determined its atomic weight. The element, which was named in honor of the city of Copenhagen, is still not completely isolated but the professor's efforts in this direction are nearing completion. The connection of the element with zirconium, a kindred element, has made investigations exceedingly difficult, but Professor Bohr has been able to ascertain that the atomic weight lies between 179 and 181.

Five of the 92 elements existant remain to be discovered. As a result of his experiments Professor Bohr has discovered that haf-nium is impenetrable by Rontgen-rays. He asserts that it has the good qualities of bismuth, which is used in connection with Rontgen-ray experiments, but none of the bad ones, and the discovery is expected to be of considerable value to medical science.

ON THE SCREEN

FINE CAST SUPPORTS MISS DEAN
Universal's habit of assembling remarkable casts to support Priscilla Dean is emphasized in "The Flame of Life," the Hobart Henley Universal-Jewel production which comes to the Elitte theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

Wallace Beery, famous for his admirable characterizations in many successful productions, was selected for the interesting role of the heroine's father. It is the third big part that the noted character player has interpreted in support of this star.

The first was as the sheik in "The Virgin of Stamboul"; then came a shorter but equally important role in her support in "Wild Honey"; and now the powerful portrayal of the father in the Frances Hodgson Burnett story which is serving Miss Dean as her current vehicle.

The second man to be chosen for the cast was Fred Kohler, best known for his vigorous out-of-doors roles and who won the approbation of critics in support of Edith Roberts in "Thunder Island," with Miss Dean in her big north woods success, "Conflict," and very recently with Herbert Rawlinson in "Blarney."

Beatrice Burnham, who played leads in support of several Universal masculine stars a year ago, returned to Universal City to join the extraordinary cast of Miss Dean's production. Another feminine role of interest was depicted by charming Katherine McGuire.

The selection of a leading man for Priscilla Dean cost the executives at the big studio considerable loss of sleep. After considering four masculine stars of sufficient prestige and ability to support her, and among whom it was difficult to choose, the part finally went to Robert Ellis.

Mr. Ellis plays the part of a mine foreman who believes that all workers are fellow creatures and not slaves and tries to make the life of the men and women under him as pleasant as possible. His efforts, however, are viewed with suspicion and hatred and his path is anything but a rosy one.

GHOST OF RODD CASE STILL PLAGUES STATE

By Associated Press
Madison—The case of Hans Rodd, Oneida county sheriff whom Governor Blaine attempted to remove from office in December 1921 because he refused to carry out an order which the Supreme court later held was unwarranted, came to light again today in the attorney general's office.

John Asmundson, the man appointed to office by Governor Blaine to succeed Rodd after his illegal removal, has asked the county for pay. District Attorney John M. Kelly requested an opinion of the attorney general as to the legality of the claim.

"One who is illegally appointed to an office who never took charge of the office and never performed the duties thereof, is not entitled to compensation as a defacto officer," the attorney general wrote.

"The Supreme court held that the removal from office of Sheriff Hans Rodd by Governor Blaine was illegal. Sheriff Rodd continued in office for the full term. Asmundson did not assume charge of the jail nor of the general's office in Oneida county and did not act as sheriff."

The attorney general ruled that as a consequence he could not pay claim.

MUST HAVE COUNTY SPEED LAW TO KEEP SPEED FINES

In order that counties may receive the fines imposed upon speeders apprehended by the county motorcycle officers, it will be necessary for county boards to pass ordinances reenacting the state law governing speeding. This was the information John E. Hantschel, county clerk, received in response to a letter he wrote to G. J. Fjeldstad, clerk of Dane-co. County boards are, however, not permitted to lower or raise the speed limit, as was originally done in Dane-co. but the ordinance must comply in every way with the state law. Passing of such an ordinance was forecast at the last session of the county board of Outagamie-co.

20,103,761 CATHOLICS IN U. S., DIRECTORY SAYS

There are 20,103,761 Catholics in the United States, according to "The Catholic Press Directory," which has just been published by Joseph H. Miller of 64 West Randolph street, Chicago. The directory was issued under the endorsement of the officials of the Catholic Press association.

Although the number does not agree with the figures of the United States census bureau, published in 1916, and although the total is much higher than that given out by the Federal Council of Protestant churches, Mr. Miller says that his 15 years study of the Catholic statistics entitle him to say that the figure 20,103,761 is so nearly correct that any errors which may be found are negligible.

According to the directory, there are 53,347 sisters and nuns in the United States; 22,545 Catholic clergy men; 17,062 Catholic churches; 212 seminaries, universities and colleges; 207 monasteries, abbeys and scholasticates; 556 convents and novitates; 608 academies and boarding schools; 539 Catholic high schools; 539 hospitals and sanitariums; and 594 charitable institutions.

Historical spots along Highway 15 through the Fox river valley might not be expected to attract much attention from automobile tourists, but a number of complaints written by them to the Wisconsin Historical society at Madison on the city of Menasha's neglect of three panther (waterspirit) mounds in Smith park, belies the supposition.

Tourists enjoy visiting historical spots that abound on Highway 15 and believe that something should be done to preserve the remains of the vanished race of mound builders. They declare it is a disgrace to allow such interesting relics of early Indian history to be neglected. The mounds, it is held, should be kept up and marked with tablets.

Efforts in the past to have Menasha do something to save these mounds have been without result, and the hope has been expressed by members of the state historical society that a woman's club or other civic organization might help preserve the mounds. The attention of the park board was called to the disappearance of a turtle mound several years ago.

COUNCIL CHANGES ZONE ORDINANCE DESPITE PROTEST

Bogan Asks City To Pay For Repairs To Motorcycle Wrecked By Police Car.

A movement was inaugurated in the common council Wednesday evening to have trolley cars stop on the "near side" of the street, as the cars now are doing on Oneida-st and College-ave, instead of the "far side" of the street.

An amendment to a city ordinance, emanating from the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company, was introduced which would change the phrase "stop at the second crossing" to "first crossing." The amendment was ordered published and referred to the ordinance committee for consideration. It produced favorable comment among members of the council.

Two amendments to the city zoning ordinance were placed upon their passage and passed. They create new local business districts at State- and Second-ave and at Water-ave and Cass-st.

Alderman John Lappen expressed the opinion that the amendments to the zoning ordinance are being made too frequently and inquired of C. D. Thompson, chairman of the ordinance committee, what the objections F. S. Bradford, member of the plan commission, had against the changes.

TOO MANY CHANGES
Alderman Thompson replied that Mr. Bradford objected principally to the number of amendments being made. He said that the council is making no more amendments than the plan commission made after Prof. L. S. Smith, planning engineer, had presented it to the commission for adoption by the council.

The ordinance to issue $250,000 more junior high school bonds also came up for final reading and adoption and was passed. It will take effect 15 days after passage and publication.

Theodore Berg, city attorney, was authorized to defend the city of Appleton in the action begun by the local Elks club for cancellation and rebate of its tax of $1,000 which it last January paid under protest.

FILE TWO CLAIMS
Two damage claims were presented to the council. Wilbur Bogan, county motorcycle officer, asked $155.22 for damage done to his vehicle when it was struck July 17 by the Appleton police car. George Moriel, supervisor of Alliea park, also asked $1,655.95 damages for loss of his household possessions in a fire which a few months ago destroyed the city caretaker home in the park. Both claims were referred to the judiciary committee and the city attorney.

It was also decided, upon Mayor Henry Reuter's suggestion to have the police touring car lettered so that it could be recognized as such. Those voting "in opposition" were Aldermen Thompson, Schultz, Hansen and Wood.

Alderman Thompson declared it is not good policy to car hereafter be strictly private, he said. Just as it once embarrassed certain aldermen, when the police car once stopped in front of their homes to call them to a special meeting, it would in some cases cause unwarranted discomfiture to others, he declared.

A suggestion by Mayor Reuter to provide a safe for the records of the city assessor was referred to the ground and building committee. Engineer R. M. Connelly was instructed that he already has authority to stop location of a house which is to be moved in opposition to the city zoning ordinance on lot 22, Bellaire-st. He said no permit had been asked for, and a house was to be moved upon the lot to occupy a position contrary to the provisions of the ordinance.

Mayor Henry Reuter asked authority for Theodore Berg, city attorney, to meet the state highway commission at some locality where the matter of securing federal state and county aid for building a street from the south end of Cherry-st bridge to the city limits would be discussed.

Former Appletonian Ill
Word has been received at the T. M. C. A. that E. W. Powers, who will be remembered here as assistant physical director of the local T. M. C. A. when R. E. Starker was physical director, has been forced by ill health to give up his work. Mr. Powers has been at Fremont, Neb., but during the winter suffered from influenza from which he never fully recovered. He left Appleton two years ago.

Dobbin Must Have Place To Quench His Thirst, Common Council Decrees

All But Two Of The Watering Troughs In Appleton Will Be Ready For Use—Repatee Waxes Warm

The dry spell for horses in Appleton is over. By a unanimous vote and with Alderman C. F. Smith absent, the city council Wednesday evening decided to reopen all but two of the public watering troughs in the city. They will be connected from April 15 to Oct. 15 of each year.

Troughs which will remain disconnected are those at Atlantic and Richmond-sts and Appleton-st and Second-ave. Those that will continue to be operated are located as follows: Story-st and College-ave; Carver and Outagamie-sts; Lake and South River-sts; Appleton-st and Chicago and North-western station; Union-st at the Ideal Lumber and Coal company yards; stock fair grounds on Walnut-st.

The last mentioned trough was the only one left in operation when the council several weeks ago decided to discontinue all but one. At a later meeting an effort was made by some aldermen to have at least four troughs in operation on account of the complaints of farmers and city teamsters. The vote to operate five resulted in a tie and Mayor Henry Reuter, exercising his right in such cases, voted to abolish them.

EXPENSE IS NOMINAL
When Alderman A. W. Laabs renewed the issue Wednesday evening, he declared that the expense was nominal and that the rental paid by the city was merely money placed "from one pocket into the other," as the city would be paying the money to itself. He proposed operating four of the troughs during the summer months.

Alderman R. F. McGillan declared that he would sooner see all the troughs connected.

"I have no objection," answered Mr. Laabs.

"My impression is that the troughs not much in use are a nuisance to the city," said Alderman C. D. Thompson.

Alderman J. A. Wood proposed waiting until petitions reach the council to reopen the troughs, as he did not believe there were very many complaints about their non-use.

That the troughs were used by motorists at which to wash their cars, was the objection of Alderman J. P. Lappen.

"Why should we furnish horses with water anyway?" he asked.

"Why should we furnish lights for the city?" Alderman Laabs retorted. "It would seem to me that not many of the aldermen have had very much to do with horses."

REACH COMPROMISE
"I think," said Alderman Wood, "that I have driven horses almost as much as you. And I am quite willing to bet that if you and I were working them on the field, we would not water the horses until dinner time."

After three or four amendments to reduce and increase the number of troughs to be kept in operation, the aldermen finally compromised on the list previously mentioned.

The expense of operation, it was said, is about $55 a quarter for each trough. This lowers the expense of previous operation from $2,000 to about $1,200 a year.

It was suggested by Mr. Laabs that the water committee investigate what economy device could be attached to the troughs so as to save in the amount of water consumed.

POULTRY BREEDERS OPEN CONVENTION ON SUNDAY

The sessions will be held in the Republican house. Registrations of association members from all parts of the state will be made Sunday morning at the headquarters.

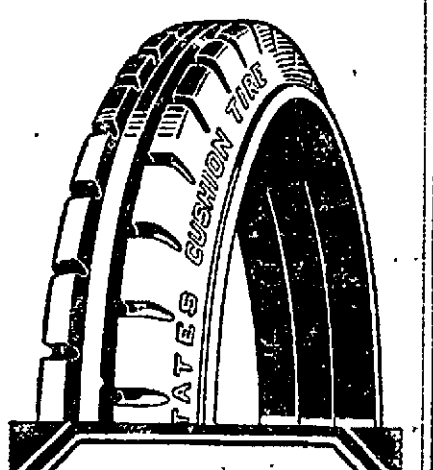

Sunday afternoon automobile trips will be made around Milwaukee-co. Judge D. E. Hale of Chicago will preside as toastmaster at the opening banquet Sunday night.

Among the poultry breeders who will address the convention Monday are H. W. Eldridge of Plymouth, president of the state association, Prof. J. B. Hayes of the University of Wisconsin and H. M. Lackie of the state department of marketing.

CHEESE SALES IN PLYMOUTH TOTAL 30 TONS IN YEAR

Cheese Prices For Entire Country Are Established In Small Badger City

Plymouth, Wis.—Between 60,000, 000 and 75,000,000 pounds of cheese will be sold in Plymouth this year. Of this amount, the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation, a cooperative selling agency composed of farmers and factories will market about 25,000,000 pounds and the rest will be sold on the two cheese boards and at private sale.

Nearly all of the cheese sold here is of the full cream American brand, little of the so-called foreign brands being handled here. Plymouth has a town of only 3,500 population but it controls the prices and market of cheese for the state and that practically means the country. For every person living here, one ton or more of cheese is sold. It is estimated that about 250,000,000 pounds of cheese of all kinds annually are made in Wisconsin and that 70 per cent of all made in the country is of Badger make.

SNAKE HARMLESS IF HANDLED PROPERLY

Green Bay Medicine Man Hasn't a Great Deal Of Respect For Deadly Rattler

Green Bay.—The most poisonous snake on the North American continent is harmless when handled properly, according to H. E. Kindness, Indian medicine manufacturer of this city, who in twelve years experience with various kinds of reptiles has never suffered any injury.

The diamond black rattler, generally regarded as the most deadly snake in North America, is the most cowardly and sensitive of reptiles, Mr. Kindness says. A full grown Wisconsin grass snake could whip a Texas rattler if he took the notion to do so, and if a scarping bull snake could enter a nest of rattlers he would emerge unscathed, leaving all his poisonous brethren dead behind him, according to the snake expert.

Mr. Kindness points out that the bull snake, also a resident of Texas, is a beautiful reptile with a mottled tan and brown back, whose favorite diversion is making war on rattlers. This anti-rattler propensity has made him the object of protective legislation in some southern states where rattlers abound. In the large serpentine collection which Mr. Kindness maintains at his home is a six foot bull snake. The welfare of the rattler demands that he be kept isolated from them. Several years ago Mr. Kindness inadvertently permitted a bull snake to enter the rattler's pit. Before the mistake was discovered five rattlers, including two immense specimens seven feet long had been killed. Mr. Kindness also kept black snakes, whip snakes and blue racers, but these will live peacefully with the rattlers, he said.

The rattler is the most sensitive to climatic changes rarely living in this locality for more than eight or nine weeks. For this reason Mr. Kindness must order from a large farm in Texas as Wisconsin snakes are useless for the purpose of making liniment, he said.

EASTERN MARKETS DEMANDING CARP

Preparations already are under way for Wisconsin's annual carp harvest this fall that is expected to bring about a half million pounds of rough fish to eastern markets.

Actual carp fishing in Wisconsin lakes will not be started until the water becomes cool late in the fall. Carp at that time are less active and can be more easily held in crates. The necessity of reeling in hot weather, making shipments cheaper later, and the fact that there is a better market for the fish in cold weather are other incentives to delay in fishing operations.

Fishermen contract for the removal of rough fish with an agreement that the state be paid a percentage of the total profit from the hauls.

The fact that carp are accepted as food in the east solves one of Wisconsin's big conservation problems. Due to their saleable value ranging in most instances from 4 to 14 cents, a pound, the fish are removed from the lakes at a profit to the state.

Carp fishing is of great value to the fishing grounds of the state according to Rudolph Scheibel, secretary of the conservation commission. Although all of the carp cannot be removed from the waters, their numbers are materially diminished giving game fish a better opportunity to propagate.

Wonderful for Piles Says Peterson

If you received every week a dozen or more letters like the ones below from people who have suffered torments from piles, wouldn't you feel happier than the man whose life is devoted to money grabbing?

"Gentlemen—I have been suffering with a fistula for the past twenty years. During that time I have tried numerous remedies, all of which have failed.

"Two months ago I determined to give Peterson's Ointment a trial. The improvement was so decided after using one box, that I have continued, and on the completion of the fifth box am now entirely cured.

"This is written with the view of passing along the good word to other sufferers." Very truly yours, Chas. E. Caswell, 232 Third-st., Albany, N. Y.

Here's another from Mr. Edgar Thomas, age 76, of Hemlock, N. Y. He writes:

"I had the itching piles, also high blood pressure. I saw Peterson's ad in the paper. I used one box and a half of Peterson's Ointment for itching piles and the piles disappeared, also the high blood pressure." 35 cents a box at all druggists. adv.

ASK MONEY HERE TO HELP ADULT BLIND

Help for the adult blind in Wisconsin is being asked by W. T. Rainey in a personal solicitation campaign for the Badger State Advancement Association of the Blind which is being made in this city. Funds from the campaign will be used by the association to teach adult blind persons trades, which will enable them to make a more respectable living than they can by accepting charity.

The school provided by the state for the education of the blind in Janesville takes only those who are minors. Statistics show that a large percentage of the blind persons in this state have been deprived of sight after their twentieth year. These are given a mere pittance pension by the state.

John J. Sherman, president of the Citizens National bank is the treasurer for the local drive and will handle all the money collected here for the blind.

Don't Want A Railroad In Cherry Land

By Associated Press
Madison—There is one section of Wisconsin that has no railroad, boasts of the fact, and advertises that it doesn't want one.

This section is the Dorr county peninsula above Sturgeon Bay. Included within it is one of the greatest cherry producing areas in the nation. Dairying has added prosperous farms to the county, which gets along without rail transportation.

Mayor James Martin of Sturgeon Bay, declares that the county has no desire for a railroad. He said that some lines have suggested a railroad through the county, but that the suggestion has met with little favor among the residents.

Excellent roads and a desire to maintain the upper peninsula as a summer section, are given as the reason for aversion to a railroad. At present tourists can drive for 40 miles up the country without crossing a railroad track.

GASOLINE TAX IS COLLECTED IN 36 STATES OF UNION

Disposition This Last Year Has Been To Increase Burden Of Car Owners

By Associated Press
New York.—Within a few years, developments show every motorist in America may expect to dig down into his jeans for 1, 2 or 3 cents extra to every gallon of gasoline he buys. That is the taxation program that is gradually being adopted throughout the United States.

Already 36 states have adopted gasoline taxation measures. Seventeen of these got into line only this year. Another will make the number 37 at the beginning of 1924, and most of the remaining 11 states are contemplating passage of a gasoline tax. This information comes from a recent report by Harry Mixell, secretary of the Motor Vehicle Conference Committee, representing various automobile organizations in the country. It is preliminary to a thorough study of the gasoline tax situation, on the basis of which the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce is expected to adopt a governing policy with regard to this subject.

That the gasoline tax is here to stay is shown not only by the large number of states that adopted it this year, but by the nine states which increased their fees by 1 and 2 cents a gallon.

MORE COMING
In addition, several of the states still without gasoline taxes have been contemplating adoption of such a measure. The governor of Michigan vetoed a 2-cent tax bill passed by the legislature, and the chief executive of Arizona did not permit the bill increasing that state's tax from 1 to 3 cents to go through as law. These states, however, are expected to turn the tables probably by next year.

"In Massachusetts," reports Mixell, "the law imposing a 2-cent tax was passed by the legislature and approved by the governor. But a popular referendum will be held in 1925, which therefore automatically suspends the collection of the tax until the people have expressed their will upon it."

Ohio also considered a gasoline tax, but at the last minute it was decided to have a special committee look further into the situation in that state. Minnesota has passed a law providing for an amendment to make gasoline taxation legal. And Oregon has called upon its neighboring states of Washington, Idaho and California for uniformity in their gasoline tax measures.

LITTLE OTHER REDUCTION
Despite this additional taxation, however, there has been little, if any, sign of a reduction of other forms of motor duties.

"In only two of the 36 states which have so far enacted motor fuel taxes," Mixell points out, "have there been the elimination or even reduction of the forms of special levies. In California privately used motor vehicles must henceforth pay an annual flat registration fee of $3, while in Utah there has been a 50 per cent reduction in the registration fees for passenger cars and the same for trucks of one-half and three-fourths ton capacities."

"On the other hand, of the 17 states adopting gasoline taxes this year and the eight others increasing the rate of their existing taxes, seven of them actually made increases of one kind or another in some or all of their annual registration fees. This was particularly true with regard to trucks of the larger capacities."

CLEVER COUNTERFEIT MONEY IN CIRCULATION

Washington postoffice department bulletins received at the Appleton postoffice warn the public against a flood of counterfeit $10 and $20 federal reserve notes that have been placed in circulation. The department reports that these bills, four sets of them, are clever imitations. Even the colored silk hairs are impressed in the paper. Some of the counterfeiters have been arrested, but just how far their product has circulated is not yet known.

Is Every Day a Backache Day?

LAME and aching in the morning? Tortured with backache all day long? No wonder you feel worn out and discouraged. But have you given any thought to your kidneys? Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

HERE'S AN APPLETON CASE:
Mrs. Mary Dowe, 512 State St., says: "Backache bothered me and I had a steady, dull hurt across my kidneys. My kidneys acted too often and I had headaches and dizzy spells. I also was run down, but when I had an attack, I used Doan's Kidney Pills from Voigt's Drug Store and they always benefited me."

Oneida Indians Divided Over Claim To N. Y. Lands

Dennison Wheelock, Noted Indian Lawyer, Says Claim Is Baseless

The value of the Oneida Indian claims to millions of dollars worth of real estate in New York state is a question that is threatening to permanently divide the Indians into two factions.

A sum of $10,000 has been collected from the Indians of record on the old tribal books which is to be used in prosecuting investigations and legal action toward obtaining the title to the lands, it is said.

One faction, led by Noah Webster, a Brown-co supervisor, insists that the claims are no good and intimates the funds collected will bring no good to the Indians who have mortgaged their homes and future to raise the money.

Another prominent Indian, Dennison Wheelock, a practicing attorney, while he has not taken an active part in the project, says that the claims have no value. He asserts that when the Oneidas trekked across country to Wisconsin shortly after 1822, they renounced all title to lands and tribal assets left behind.

The claim to the disputed territory is being pushed by former Congressman Everett of New York, who was an Indian commissioner of that state. The opposition faction says Everett has raised no money among the Oneida Indians in New York and that these do not themselves believe the claim.

CAN'T SELL BUILDINGS
In the meantime the government reservation buildings at Oneida have been offered for sale to the highest bidder without a buyer. The 10 buildings could be duplicated for less than

When the buildings were first offered for sale, an option was given to Mrs. Louisa Kellogg, an Oneida Indian living at Seymour, who, it is said, had in mind the operation of an Indian community project for the preservation of agricultural products and the manufacture of industrial lines. But she failed to exercise on the option and lost the money paid down.

Among the buildings is a dairy barn erected at a cost of $10,000 just a few months before the government gave up the Indian agency. After building the barn, the government refused $5,000 with which to purchase cattle. The barn was never used.

SALLY ANNS SAY WOMEN WASTE MUCH FOOTWEAR

Chicago.—Extravagance in footwear among women is more than a tradition, it's a fact, says the Salvation Army. A glance at the piles of shoes at the Salvation Army Industrial home for men here will prove it, army officials say. Adjutant Arthur Fynn says that for every pair of men's shoes donated to the army, twenty-five feminine pairs are received.

"But slightly worn, of novelty cut, and most of them small, women's shoes are a drag on our 'used clothing' market," he declares. "Many of them were too small for their first purchasers; that's why we get them. 'But we can't get enough men's shoes to go around. The men wear theirs out before we get a chance at them. So do the children. It's the women who keep us supplied.'"

WEYAUWEGA FAIR IS 50 YEARS OLD

With agricultural fairs in progress this fall at Seymour, Hortonville, Weyauwega and DePere, residents of this vicinity will have ample opportunity to visit attractions of this kind without having very far to go.

A high class program of races is planned for the Waupaca County fair at Weyauwega, Sept. 11 to 14, according to an announcement by Secretary A. J. Reick. Fred Bushey, formerly of Appleton, well known among horse men for the last 20 years, has been appointed superintendent of speed. All race correspondence is to be addressed to him at Waupaca.

The agricultural association of that county is planning one of the best race meets ever held in that part of the state, it is announced. Two thousand dollars and added money will be awarded in prizes. The new half-mile track is in excellent condition. In addition to other things to attract visitors, the Weyauwega fair will be celebrating its fiftieth, or golden anniversary.

ENGLAND HAS 'EM, TOO

London.—The government is prosecuting heavily all those accused of evading income tax laws. So far hundreds have been caught in the dragnet. Many cases reveal that false tax returns were filed.

SHARP INCREASE IN DEMAND FOR WATER

That Appleton residents are beginning to realize more fully the value of healthful drinking water and sanitary surroundings and modern conveniences in their homes is evident from the increasing demand for water service.

According to Fred R. Morris, office manager for the water department, more applications for water service have been filed during the first seven months of 1923 than were filed during the corresponding period of the previous year. Up to July 31 of this year 171 connections were made, as compared with 149 for the same time last year. The total service connections made last year was 330. This number probably will not be exceeded this year Mr. Morris fears, on account of the standstill of main installations.

It is possible that the sanitary survey undertaken this year by George Merkel, deputy health officer, has had an effect upon the increased demand for water service.

JOCKEYS WORE CREPE

Roundhay, Leeds.—Following the funeral of Arthur Willey, M. P., many jockeys, who had attended the ceremony, wore crepe on their sleeves at race meets in which they participated. It was an unusual sight for a race meet.

"Call him. We must not let him think that we have anything of a private nature to say to each other. It is vital that he should not imagine such a thing."

"You have secrets from me—though I have let you know my own secret," she murmured, preparing to obey.

"If I keep anything from you, it is for your own good—for your own security," he replied.

She left him then and in a few moments returned with her husband. He was full of curiosity and under his usual assumption of cheerfulness Brendon perceived considerable anxiety.

"An adventure, Signor Marco? I know that without you telling me. Your face is solemn as a raven and you walked stiffly as you came to the door. What happened?"

"What? A squawk of my life," replied Mark. "And I've made a stupid mistake. You must pay all attention to what I'm going to tell you, Doria, for we can't say who is in danger now and who is not. The shot that very nearly ended my career yesterday might just as easily have been aimed at you, had you been in my place."

"Not the red man? A smuggler perhaps? You may have stumbled upon some of them, and knowing no Italian—"

"It was Robert Redmayne who fired upon me and missed by a miracle."

Jenny uttered an exclamation of fear. "Thank God!" she said under her breath.

Brendon told the story in every detail and explained his own ruse. He related nothing but the truth—up to a certain point; but beyond that he described events that had not taken place.

"Having made the fake figure, I hid just before dusk fairly close to it, intending, of course, to keep watch, for I was positive that the murderer, as he would suppose him, must come back after dark to hide his work. But now ensued an awkward contretemps for which I had not provided. I found myself faint—so faint that I began to be alarmed. I had not eaten since the morning and the food and flask which I had brought with me were half a mile and more away."

"I am not made of iron, and the day had been rather strenuous for me. I was bruised and lame and utterly played out. I decided that I should have time to reach my food and return to my hiding place before the moon rose. But it was not such an easy or speedy business as I had expected. It took me a long time to get back to the starting place and when I did, a search was made for me. I found my sandwiches and flask of Chianti. Never was a meal more welcome. I soon felt my strength returning and set off in half an hour on the journey back to the plateau."

"Then my troubles began. You'll think the wine got into my head and it may have done so; but at any rate I lost the path most effectively and presently lost myself. I began to despair and had very nearly given up any further attempt to return when, out of the trees, blinked the white face of the precipice under Grante's crown and I recognized the situation. Then I went slowly and silently forward and kept a sharp lookout."

"But I returned too late. Once back again, a glance at the dummy showed me that I had lost my chance."

Jenny looked at her husband and waited to speak until he had done so. But Giuseppe appeared more interested at what had already happened to Brendon than in what was next to happen. He asked many questions, to which Mark was able to return true replies. Then he declared that he would accompany the detective to the scene of his adventure.

"If you go, I come too," said the woman quietly; and both men protested. But she would take no denial.

They scoured the scene of Brendon's exploit presently and it was Jenny who found the shallow grave.

Mark determined to take no action until Mr. Ganns came back to Menaggio. Meanwhile he proposed to occupy himself with the rabbits and wife and, so far as possible, preserve an attitude of friendship to them both.

The days passed and presently without any warning, Albert Redmayne and the American suddenly reappeared. They arrived at Menaggio after noon.

Mr. Redmayne was in the highest spirits and delighted to be home again. He knew nothing about Peter's operations and cared less. His visit to England was spent at London, where he had renewed ac-

Invents Cutter When Weary Of Sewing Duties

Oldham City—Mother may thank Mrs. Delaney of this city when she sits down to measure and fold and cut material for her own and baby's dresses.

For Mrs. Delaney has invented a device by which all this cutting and folding into hems, ruffles and bands, is reduced to the least amount of work. And all it consists of is one of the gilt knobs atop baby's crib, two discs of a watch and a discarded six-inch tin tube about three-eighths inch in diameter.

Mrs. Delaney got the idea for this device after struggling through pleats and ruffles and hems of all sorts, until it made her dizzy. Too tired to continue this sewing, she started working with her brain.

The result was this invention for which Mrs. Delaney says she has just refused an offer of $55,000.

The labor-saving invention is called a "Handy Help," and is made to fit on any pair of scissors. While the dressmaker cuts the cloth for a bias fold, or a two-inch ruffle or a band, the little "Handy Help" sits chalk through tiny perforations and marks a line exactly where she wants it for the next cut.

Think of the joy of snipping galley down long lengths of grievous crape de chine for a bias fold and not having to measure and turn down the width, or the next fold!

Mrs. Delaney is marketing her invention by herself, and has a corps of salespeople selling them for her.

Cloche Hats For Midsummer Look Well Even Under Adverse Style Conditions

New York—When your thoughts turn to midsummer millinery, your eyes light on something like these—and you fall.

For there's something irresistible about cloche brim. It may not be entirely new or it may not look particularly exciting, but it is smart. You can put it on in the dark, or without a mirror or under any adverse circumstances, and know what you look like.

It comes as near being the universally becoming model as there is. In Paris the brim has become so small it is scarcely visible. One gets the impression of a little black straw or felt dome having been erected over a pretty face, practically concealing the hair.

BRIMS SLIGHT However, unless you have the perfect features of a cameo or an artist's dream, you will find a slight brim more becoming and quite as smart.

SOME IDEAS OF MODERN CLOCHE HATS.

Some of the brims are cut to nothing in the back and allowed to extend out in front like a visor. Others are shaved quite as short in the front as in the back and a little width permitted at the side—a great concession to the broad face. Others show no favoritism and maintain equal width at all points.

Lace veils are used on some of the most severe models and they may be draped to suit the features and soften the general effect. Stiff little ornaments of feathers, that closely resemble father's shaving brush, are a favorite trimming. So are ribbon cockades or the convention flower, flatly applied.

FEATHERS On the all-white hat one frequently finds a band of cloudy white feathers trailing the brim, or long feathers fastened to the tip of the crown with the ends dangling below the brim. Sometimes well below the shoulder line. This latter style is at its best, however, only on the girl with the swan-like neck, for it has a tendency to subtract inches.

Practically the only alternative of the small cloche is the very large picture hat with little trimming, worn only with the rather elaborate frock. But the smartest women are appearing in the smallest hats.

Wise Hints For The Home Sewer

When making buttonholes in very soft or thin material, rub a little library paste on the wrong side of the goods and let it dry before cutting the buttonholes. This gives a firm surface to work on, and the paste will not discolor the most delicate fabrics.

In working an eyelet leave the end of the thread long enough to go around the eyelet hole and work over it. It thus pads and makes a firm eyelet.

Long narrow belts are easily turned by a small safety-pin stuck in one end and run through to the other end.

If the inside basting of your skirt has lost its stiffness, try dipping it in cold starch and press with hot iron. It will renew it.

To iron a round centerpiece so that it will not pucker in the center, always iron from the center to the outside edge.

At the extreme right end of the ironing-board fasten a tiny writing pad, a pencil and a paper of pins. As an article is ironed, record missing buttons and tears on a slip and pin to the upper side of the garment when it is finally folded. No need to unfold any article to see if it needs mending.—From The Designer Magazine for August

Adventures Of The Twins

Wild Mustard

One morning Mister Tatters, the little Raggy Man, looked out of his window in Raggy Land (which was under ground, you know) and saw something. Something that hadn't been there the day or two before. He looked again. Indeed, to make quite sure, he looked three times. And finally he took of his nightgown and put on his raggedy overalls and ran out of his little house and went over to the something and looked right at it.

"Yes, sir!" As sure as you're born, that's it," he nodded talking to no one at all. For it was early and none of the little Raggies or either of the Twins were awake yet.

"Yes, sir! That's it!" he repeated. "I've been afraid all along it would be."

come sometime, and here it is at last."

Then he blew his whistle. At that every one of the Raggies jumped out of bed and into their coats and flew out to see what Mister Tatters wanted. And you may be sure Nancy and Nick were there first.

"What is it?" asked Nick breathlessly. "Is something hurt?" "Something may be," said Mister Tatters. "If we don't get to work at once. And we'll have to get the Brownies and cives and pixies to help us."

"What is it? Oh, do tell us!" cried

Nancy. "It must be something awful!"

"It is," answered the Raggy man pointing to some roots overhead. "Don't you see what that is? The gnomes have planted wild mustard in Farmer Brown's wheat field. It will ruin his wheat, every bushel, unless we pull it all out at once. It's just started to grow!"

Then such bustling as there was! They worked all day and nearly half the night.

But Farmer Brown's wheat was saved. Thanks to the Twins and the Raggies.

CANDY

For Every Taste—Pure, Wholesome and Delicious—Ask For "HERRMANN'S CANDY"

E. J. HERRMANN

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

JELLY MAKING

Be sure that the sugar you use for canning, preserving and jelly making is pure cane sugar. Beet sugar will not make good jelly.

Clear 'spending' jelly is the result of quick work in boiling the fruit juice and great care in extracting the juice. The first juice which comes through the jelly bag will make the clearest jelly.

It is better not to try to make too much jelly at one time. The wider the kettle the better because quick evaporation means a light colored jelly. Heat the sugar before adding it to the juice. This does not cool the juice or retard boiling as much as if cold sugar were used. The sugar is heated in the oven after measuring.

APPLE JELLY

As if apples can be used for jelly if practically ripe. The jelly will not be as light colored. Other varieties are used for jelly when quite green.

Wash and quarter apples. Remove any bad spots and defective cores. Put in preserving kettle with just enough water to prevent burning. Cook rapidly to a pulp. Put into jelly bag and let drain overnight.

Measure juice. Put juice in clean preserving kettle and boil rapidly. Skim as much as possible and add warmed sugar slowly. Do not let boiling stop while adding sugar. Boil rapidly until a teaspoon of juice tried on a cold plate forms jelly.

Pour into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin when cold. As tartan apples will "jelly" if three-fourths cup of sugar is used for every cup of juice. Most other varieties, containing less pectin, require measure for measure of sugar and juice.

Old-time jelly makers put a rose geranium leaf in the bottom of part of the jelly glasses. The boiling sirup extracted enough of the real fragrance to delicately flavor the jelly. Mint was often used in the same fashion except that the sprig was removed from the glass before the jelly hardened.

GRAPE JELLY

Grape jelly should be made before the grapes ripen.

Strip grapes from stems and wash. Put in preserving kettle with a very little water, just enough to prevent burning. Bring to the boiling point and boil rapidly until the skins burst open. Put in jelly bag and let drain overnight. If grapes are cooked over in the morning five or six hours will extract the juice, and jelly can be made the same day.

To net squeeze the jelly bag as this makes the juice cloudy and the jelly will not be clear. Measure juice and return to the fire. Bring quickly to the boiling point and boil ten minutes. Add as many cups of sugar as there were cups of juice. Boil rapidly until juice "jells" when tried on a cold plate.

RASPBERRY SHRUB

Six quarts raspberries, 1 quart cider vinegar, granulated sugar.

Wash and pick over berries. Put berries and cider vinegar in a stone jar. Cover with a clean cloth and let stand 36 hours. Strain through a jelly bag. Measure juice and use cup for cup of sugar and juice. Put into preserving kettle and boil 10 minutes. Pour boiling hot into sterilized bottles and seal. When wanted, dilute with ice water.

DINNER GOWN

A very unusual dinner frock combines a rose-colored dinner blouse with a black satin skirt, very much draped and very long.

LETTER FROM ALICE HAMILTON TO HER SISTER, LESLIE PRESCOTT

VERY DEAR, THOUGH MEDDLING SISTER OF MINE:

If you feel that way about it, don't come to New York to see me off, for Karl is coming over with us.

I told mother it would be all right for you to say goodbye by letter as I expected some sort of a complication. Seriously though, I think I'd better have a talk with you.

For heaven's sake, don't divide your pearl beads with anyone. I don't mind telling you that there is a most peculiar history connected with them and some time someone may come to you and ask you to give them back.

Let's say they were the "something borrowed," instead of the "something new" that you wore on your wedding day.

Somehow, I have a hunch that you will have to return them to me some day, that I may give them back. You see the person from whom I obtained them may be sorry that I gave them to you and, besides, that person told me he had them for a long time and was very fond of them because he had intended them for a woman he had loved.

He was very sad and despairing then and I almost felt that if I did not take them he might throw them away, so anxious was he to get rid of them.

However, you must know, Leslie, that Time is a great healer and even the most devoted lovers may love again. Perhaps this man might do so and if he did it would be quite romantic to tell his bride the story and give her the beads. It would make her feel, you know, that after all he was giving his great love to her.

If you come to see me off, don't you interfere with Karl's trip to England. If you do, I'll make a scene. I let you run your affairs, my dear sister. Please let me run mine. There is even a thing as noblesse oblige even for poky old sisters.

Notwithstanding what I am saying, I still love you and will probably cry my eyes out if I do not see you waving to me from the deck as the boat sails.

ALICE.

FASHION HINTS

SHORT JACKET

The short jacket of kasha cloth, tapestry or embroidered silk or velvet is much more popular at the present moment than the sweater jacket.

BEAVER COLLARS

Very handsome but small collars of beaver are worn on the fall top coat of camel's hair or plaid wool.

CLOSE VEILS

Close veils are being worn again, those with the square mesh are particularly popular. They are worn with the most severe clothes and turbans.

LONG BEADS

The newest beads come in extremely long strings, some of them reaching to the knees. Sometimes a choker of larger beads is also worn.

THREE-QUARTER COATS

Three-quarter length coats are being exploited in Paris as a relief from the tube like coats, fastening on the side and usually covered with embroidery or braiding.

BLACK AND BROWN

One of the smartest color combinations for daylight is black and brown. It has much more pep than you would believe.

CAPE COLLARS

Some of the new fall coats achieve a swaggy effect by cape collars which reach the waistline and are lined with gay cloths.

TIERED SKIRT

The tiered skirt is featured on some of the smartest street costumes and is usually shown in company with a side closing.

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH FRECKLES

Make this Lemon Cream and just see Tan, Freckles Disappear

Mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful freckle and tan cream, and complexion beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon cream into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes naturally bleach, right out and how youthfully clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. adv.

be guests of the association at the picnic. The boys will be given an opportunity of seeing the fine dairy farms in this section of the state.

Last year the Holstein picnic was held in the grove at Mackville, with John M. Kelly, attorney for Ringling Brothers circus, and head of the dairy products publicity committee of the National Holstein-Friesian association
as chief speaker.

REPEATER DRUNK
GOES TO ROCK PILE

William Menard is in bad again, and it is the same old offense, drunkenness. This time he will be obliged to spend 10 days at hard labor in the county workhouse instead of staying at the county jail. Sentence was imposed by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Thursday.

Warrant for his arrest was secured through the police by J. W. Blue and Frank O'Hern, special agents of the Chicago and Northwestern railway,
when he was caught trying to steal
a ride on a train at Appleton Junction,
at about 10 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Menard will be remembered as the man who voluntarily summoned the Black Maria to bring him to the police station from Appleton Junction a few weeks ago. He was drunk at the time. Later police used him as a decoy to purchase a bottle of liquor from a Lake-st saloonkeeper, but the proprietor was acquitted by a jury.

T. B. PETITIONS IN 104 SCHOOL ZONES

Organization work for the eradication of tuberculosis of Outagamie-co
herds is being carried on aggressively,
according to Robert A. Amundsen, county agent. Petitions now are being circulated in 104 of the 120 or more rural school districts. Efforts are being made to secure the signature of at least 80 per cent of the farmers in order to secure state aid for the countywide cleanup.

FALL KILLS FORMER HORTONVILLE MAN

ville, where he had gone to live recently from Madison, Wis. Two years ago a fire destroyed a part of the machinery in his printing plant, Janesville police say.

The police, however, are investigating the possibility of suicide. They expressed also the belief that Nye may have been addicted to walking in his sleep and so have fallen from the window.

Mr. Nye, who was a former editor of several Wisconsin newspapers and was at one time editorial writer on the Milwaukee Journal.

Nye was well known throughout Wisconsin.

During the war he served overseas
as a T. M. C. A. worker and his son Donald was a sergeant on the headquarters staff at Chaumont. Nye won a Journal contest among state
editorial writers for the best state
editorial in 1914 and shortly afterward became a member of the Journal editorial staff. He left the paper to go to France as a T. M. C. A. worker.

Mr. Nye was born in Hortonville.
In 1922 he bought an interest in the Hortonville Review and the next year
established the Wittenberg Enterprises
and became a resident of that city,
still retaining his interest in the Hortonville paper. Later he founded the New London Republic and was editor of all three papers until 1923. He served as mayor of Wittenberg and as a member of the Shavano county board.

Mr. Nye, who was well known in Appleton is survived by his widow,
three sons, Gerald, Ralph and Donald,
and one daughter, Myrtle. Gerald Nye was publisher of the Weekly Review at Hortonville for a number of years and Ralph was employed in Appleton about three years ago.

BERLIN ESTIMATES WORLD POPULATION AT 1,804,187,631

Nearly Forty Millions Live in Eighteen Largest Cities

By Associated Press
Berlin—Scattered over the face of the earth is a total population of 1, 804,187,631, only seven per cent of which is in cities of more than 100, 000 inhabitants, according to statistics
compiled here and based largely on 1922 census reports. Only 30 of the 70 nations listed have cities of or above the 100,000 class, which is the lowest counted within the classification of "large cities."

Approximately 40,000,000 of the globe's inhabitants live in the 18 centers having a million residents or more each. About 90,000,000 live in the smaller large cities, of which there are only 393 in the whole world.
The average large city is said to number some 320,000 souls. From these figures, it is stated, every forty-fifth human resides in cities housing millions, while every fourth finds his home in a large city of some sort.

New York is given as the largest city in the world, with a population of 5,620,048. London is second with 4,483,249, and Berlin third with 3, 893,770.

Europe leads the continents in point of population. It has six cities in the million class, London, Berlin, Paris, Glasgow, Vienna and Moscow, and 193 with more than 100,000 inhabitants. Of the European countries, England has 53 large cities,
Germany 45, Italy 16, France 15,
Russia 15.

It is considered surprising that Asia has more large cities than North America. Six of the 22 Asiatic cities house more than a million apiece.
These are Shanghai, Hankow, Calcutta, Bombay, Tokio and Osaka.

British India is credited with 30 large cities, China has 20, so far as available records show, and Japan's number 19, including three in her foreign possessions.

North America follows Asia with 19 large cities. Four of these, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and Mexico City, are placed in the million

class. Of the nations on that continent, the United States leads with 68 large cities, 12 of which record
more than a half-million inhabitants.
Twenty-four large cities are located in South America, Brazil having 13, Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro are the only million-resident centers.
Australia counts eight large cities,
none of which runs up into a million.

Real estate dealers of Appleton will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening in the office of Daniel P. Steinberg to confer with three national and state association officials who are making a tour of Wisconsin. They are: Wil-

Real Estate Boards; T. B. Peterman, Curtis, president Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers; F. G.
Haight, Green Bay, secretary Wisconsin association.

An invitation has been extended all local real estate men to attend. The visitors will explain conditions as they have found them in their travels and will review the outlook for the near future in the real estate busi-

A Store Policy

THIS YEAR—1923—inaugurated a new Pettibone policy. The new Store plan called for an immediate increase in business—to make possible the contemplated changes. Pettibone's is Building a Bigger Business on this plan. 1923 will be one of the most successful years in the Store's history.

The changes are now under way. The new private shops on the Fourth Floor are part of the plan. The new Footwear Salon on the Second Floor is another part. The Summer Fair and the Bigger Business Sales have all been part of this new Pettibone's policy—A BIGGER BUSINESS.
